

Floods darken U.S. food picture in '44—Hughes

"There is a general feeling of security about the food situation," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "However, the facts are, a year ago people were thoroughly alarmed that we might run into a food shortage before that year was up. This was a situation where the alarm came a little bit too soon in our opinion. Fortunately 1943 turned out to be a very productive year the country over. This spring, however, there are very disastrous floods in Iowa and Southern Illinois and the river bottoms. We doubt very much whether the weather will be as good to us for the balance of this year as it was for the balance of 1943. The situation is so serious that Colonel Armstrong has asked the Selective Service Board to defer men engaged in agriculture for at least 60 days until late crops can be put in. Also the stocks of corn in the corn belt have been consumed to a large extent and the supply is not very big.

"There is not a great deal that the consumer can do about the situation but they must face the fact that the government has indicated that the largest part of the canners output will be bought by the government and shipped to the armed forces both in the Pacific and the Atlantic areas. The let up of pork rationing is small due to the terrific flood of meat that came on the market this last fall and after the end of this season is over this surplus may be largely consumed.

"Our suggestion to the Victory gardeners is that this year is more critical than last and that the average housewife would do well to do a much bigger job of canning than before, because in our humble opinion we expect grocers' shelves to be rather bare of canned goods by next spring. There are a few crops that the Victory gardener can still put out successfully for canning purposes.

Still Time
"One of the principal crops, of course, are tomatoes. It is still time to set tomato plants and there should be an increased amount of tomatoes canned during this coming season. There is, also, still time to put out more beans to be canned this summer and fall. Carrots can still be planted, also parsnips and with expectations that a fairly good crop will still be harvested.

"These crops can be rather easily stored in boxes or baskets covered with dry sand and left in a garage until freezing weather sets in. Parsnips will keep out in a garage all winter even though they freeze. Carrots should be kept from freezing and when zero weather sets in, if they are kept in an unheated building they can be moved to a cool basement. These are some of the principal food crops that can be produced in Victory gardens this coming year and it is our judgment that anyone who can produce these crops should do so at this time and make every effort to preserve as many as they possibly can.

"Another crop that is of some value are soybeans. Soybeans may yet be planted in rows similar to other beans. If possible some inoculation should be used on soybeans if that can be secured. Soybeans that are of the field and edible varieties. If the edible variety cannot be secured the illini bean may be planted as it is both an edible and field variety of bean.

"They can be canned and served creamed, similar to peas and are very high in food value and the best vegetable substitute for meat that we have.

"The pods will shell out very easily if boiling water is poured over them for five minutes when the beans are still enlarged and soft. They are canned the same way as peas would be canned. They may also be left to go to maturity and they can be flailed out and a number of recipes are available for the use of dry beans."

Pressure cookers tested free Saturday

Housewives who desire to be certain that their pressure cookers are in proper shape for this year's use are urged to take them to Des Plaines this Saturday morning. The State of Illinois has arranged to have a tester at the office of Miss Cornelius, Cook County Home Bureau adviser, in the basement of the Des Plaines post office building.

Illinois University advises that incorrect pressure gauges may result in accidental spoilage of fruit and vegetables being canned.

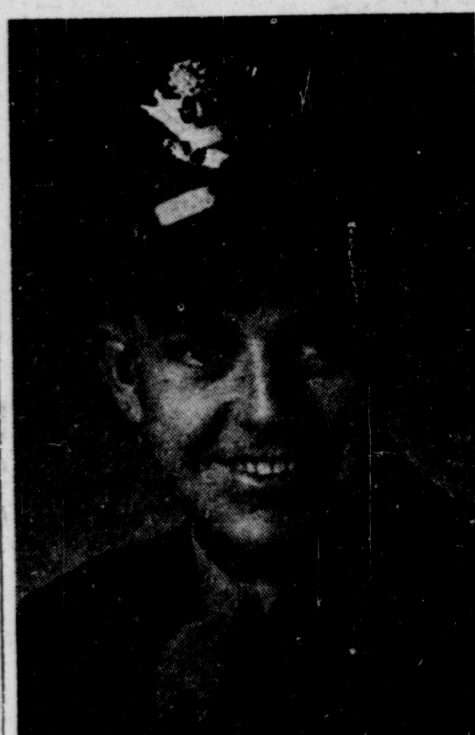

Railroad depot gets paint job

Northwestern railroad has done a bit of spring cleaning of its own this year, by repairing the waiting sheds, and painting the inside of the depot at Arlington Heights.

Vandalism among Arlington youth had caused much damage to the buildings. Many had written on the walls, broken boards, and committed other acts of vandalism.

Authorities have "declared war" on vandalism on railroad property and any persons caught in the act will be severely dealt with. Not just the threat of action, but also a feeling of civic pride should halt such acts of destruction.

Submit high school budget to public

Arlington Heights high school board of education adopted this week a tentative budget for the coming year, subject to final approval at its meeting on July 11th. The budget will be on file in the high school office after June 10th for 30 days, during which time it can be examined by any interested taxpayer, who also has the right to appear before the board on the above date in person, making any objection or suggestion that he may desire.

Due to increased enrollment two new instructors will be added to the faculty, which has made necessary a small increase in the budget for salaries. Other changes in the budget are only minor and a reduction of $500 has been made in the building fund.

The new budget calls for a total of $130,120 as compared with $125,785 for last year, representing an increase of $4,335, or four per cent. No actual increase in taxes is anticipated by the raise in the budget as the tax spread made by the county clerk for 1943 was in excess of the 1944 budget. The comparative figures are:

Building fund	1943	1944
	$40,082	$39,547
Educational fund	85,702	90,572

Red Cross emergency to triple dressings quota

A special appeal is being made to all women of the Chicago area in the current drive for more volunteers for surgical dressing work. The quota for the Chicago chapter for the months of May, June and July is 3,250,000 dressings a month.

These dressings are desperately needed and are being shipped directly overseas where they are floated into shore at our supply beach heads and points of supply all over the world.

The Arlington Heights Red Cross Surgical Dressings Unit is one of the largest units working out of North Shore depot and its quota in the present crisis is three times as large as for 1943.

Our boys in the service can not and do not offer alibis for shirking responsibilities. We must make necessary supplies available to them.

The following work rooms are open every week:

Monday, Field House, 10 to 4 and 7 to 10.
Tuesday, Field House, 12 to 5.
Wednesday, St. Peter Annex, 10 to 5.
Thursday, St. James, 10 to 5.
Thursday, Field House, 10 to 4 and 7 to 10.

It is not necessary to have a Red Cross uniform to work at any of the units. A supply of men's shirts is kept in readiness and all that you need is a man's clean handkerchief to cover your hair.

Spring is a beautiful busy time at home. It's a dangerous busy time on our fighting fronts. This year let's do a little less sunning and cleaning and give all the time we can to the Red Cross.

Arlington pilot dies in action over Italy

Word was received Saturday of the death of Lt. George Grossi of Arlington Heights, who was serving in Italy as a pilot of a paratroop carrying plane. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Grossi of Arlington Heights, and the husband of the former Alice Bartholomew.

A war department telegram informed his wife and parents of George's death April 28, stating he was killed in action over Italy. He had been stationed in Italy for two weeks.

George was well known around Arlington, graduating from Arlington Heights high school in 1939. He captained the high school baseball nine, and played with the Arlington Redwings. At the time of enlistment in July of '42, George worked for the Bell Telephone Co. Lt. Grossi first reported to Ft. Sheridan for a month's training in the summer of 1942. He was sent to Nashville, Tenn., where he took further training and passed exams to get into the air corps as a pilot. January 31, 1943, George entered pre-flight at Maxwell field, Alabama, receiving further training at Bainbridge, Georgia, army air field the following summer. He was then transferred to Moody field, Georgia, where he gained his wings and the rank of second lieutenant in November.

Lt. Grossi then received further training at Bergstrom army air field, Austin, Texas, as a member of the 1st troop carrier command. Just prior to his shipment out of the country he spent some time at Knobnoster, Missouri.

Last letter received from George by his parents was dated April 22, although they had received a telephone call from him the day before leaving this country on April 4.

Lt. Grossi was married in July of '41. His wife is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Bartholomew, of Arlington Hts.

Brother is killed in New Guinea

Mrs. Harvey Kelliher, North State Road, Arlington Heights, received word from the war department Tuesday morning that her brother Staff Sgt. Lyle F. Schane was killed in New Guinea April 25. Schane was a member of the National Guards and entered the armed service from that body two years ago. He was with the 32nd infantry division and his first combat campaign was in Buna. He returned to Australia for recuperation and later entered the present New Guinea campaign which cost him his life.

Sgt. Schane is survived by a mother and sister who reside in Waukesha, Wis., and two sisters who reside in Arlington Heights. He had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Kelliher before entering the army and expected to make his home in Arlington on his return. A recent letter stated that he had met several Arlington Heights boys while in Australia.

Science classes to have exhibits

"Fishing is easy" say the girls at Arlington National

The personnel of Arlington National Bank did not take along an adding machine to count the fish they landed last Wednesday afternoon at Fox Lake when their boss, A. W. Franzen promised to show them his favorite fishing holes, but 52 is the exact number of those which did not get away, according to Miss Lillian Plass, the assistant cashier, who volunteered to remove from the hooks any fish that was caught by those in her boat. In fairness she checked on the fishermen of the speed boat.

"I personally balanced the accounts," says Miss Plass, "but at the end of the day, there was an overdrift of forty worms." "Perhaps some of the fish swallowed two worms," replied Miss Arlene Nagel, the star fisherman among the ladies.

When W. C. Kohler checked the fish with the Miss Plass records he found that some of the fish had been caught twice because Lillian could never make mistakes.

Recess was called in the late afternoon for cats and it was a tirade, but happy bunch that returned home that evening. They are already talking about their next fishing date.

LEST WE FORGET

Those who fell, it is impossible to honor sufficiently. Mere words fall far short in trying to express gratitude for a sacrifice of such magnitude. The best that we can hope to do, is to keep these brave ones forever immortal and alive . . . in our memories.

Gold Star Honor Roll

When Paddock Publications attempted this week to secure the names of all the local boys who have given their lives in the present conflict it was found that an adequate record has not been kept by any one organization. There may be an omission from the list published above. If so the publishers ask that the correct data be forwarded to the publication office which will keep same on file.

Names of those reported missing in action for which hope still exists for their ultimate return, are not published above.

Until other means are devised for a permanent record of the local boys who lose their lives, this paper will attempt to keep a correct file. The Lions club keeps a correct record of those called into service.

Gen. Arnold of AAF at Douglas plant

Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the Army Air Forces, told Douglas Chicago plant workers Monday that the A.A.F. is depending upon them for its vitally needed supply of huge transport planes. Pointing out that only one other plant in the country is producing 4-engine C-54 transports, he declared that the principal supply must come from Chicago.

The air force commander addressed the employees following a tour of the Park Ridge plant. "From what I have seen," he said, "it is obvious that you are beginning to produce these C-54s in the quantities we need and must have to do our job all over the world. I cannot stress too much to you how badly we need them for the carrying of vital supplies.

"Spare no effort to give us the highest possible production," he urged the workers. "Again, I say to you, these C-54 transports will help us shorten the war."

Commenting on Gen. Arnold's speech, John C. Buckwalter, plant manager said, "Our production is now building up at a rate which will require many additional employees. Each one who is able to do so should investigate the possibility of becoming one of the thousands who are finding great satisfaction in working on these Chicago-built Skymaster transports."

John Terpnig missing in action

Mr. Bert Terpnig of Mt. Prospect received a report from the War Department stating that his grandson, John E. Terpnig was missing in action since May 7. John is a 1st lieutenant in the Army Air Force and was in action in the South Pacific.

Model plane show Sunday

Despite the determined efforts of the Sky Wolves to stage the Des Plaines Valley U-Control Championship Model Airplane meet at Rand Park in Des Plaines last Sunday, it was necessary to postpone the affair until May 28, due to the weatherman's presentation of rain. Many attempts were made to keep competition under control but the intermittent downpours were too much.

A record number of entries were on hand representing the top control-line fliers of the midwest, displaying some of the best looking planes of their type to be seen in flying competition. Although only 12 official flights were made, the judges awarded consolation prizes to Bill Grace of Watseka, Ill., whose plane took class "A" speed by flying the circular course at 47 M.P.H. Class B and C Speed trials were won by Bill Warner of Harvey, Ill., with speeds of 45.5 and 62.5 M.P.H. Dave Katagiri of Arlington Heights won the Precision Landing event with 86 points. No points were awarded toward the championship for the flights made during the meet as all events will be re flown next Sunday.

There will be more prizes added to the already long list of awards and contestants will be out to take all they can get of the $250.00 in trophies, war stamps, merchandise and magazine subscriptions. Excitement galore is in store with the addition of thrilling demonstration flights which will include blind flying by Ken Flagler of Des Plaines and a dog fight between two of the best model pilots in the country.

Camera fans will find it worth while to bring their cameras and take in this meet as prizes will be awarded for the best pictures taken during the meet of a plane in flight.

Fox River picnic grove set to go

The Fox River Picnic Grove, formerly Opatry's at Fox River, has been dressed up for the 1944 season. New buildings have been erected, old ones remodeled, picnic benches rejuvenated, and modern facilities have been installed. The fact is that the place would not be recognized if it were not for the rolling hills and spacious picnic grove.

The pavilion has been beautifully redecorated inside and out, new and larger bathhouses have been installed, parking spaces have been enlarged, which makes it an ideal spot for the family to enjoy a day's outing.

Memorial Day program at Arlington

Arlington Heights will observe Memorial Day next Tuesday with a program sponsored by the American Legion, V. F. W. and other patriotic organizations. John J. Lee of the American Legion is program chairman and asks the cooperation of all organizations, especially for the parade. Plans will be placed on the graves of all veterans by the V. F. W., while the Legion is responsible for the bouquets.

All organizations, school children and the general public are asked to gather at Recreation Park at 9:00 o'clock. Assembly call will be sounded at 9:20 and at 9:30 the parade will start. D. L. Rippey will be parade marshal. Les Griffith will have charge of the firing squad. The parade will proceed on Miner street from the park to Dunton, north on Dunton to St. James, west on St. James to Triangle Memorial Park where the services will be held.

The order of the parade will be: Police escort, village council, commanders of American Legion, V. F. W. and presidents of their auxiliaries, parade marshal, massed colors, firing squad, service men, Spanish - American war veterans, Legion, V. F. W. posts and auxiliaries.

Red Cross, Bundles for America, Cubs and Den Dads and colors, Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts and colors, Brownies, school children, band, Trade & Civic, Lions Club and other civic groups, fire department.

After the services at the park the Legion is asking all people who have cars, to take as many as possible to Arlington cemetery, where the graves will be decorated by the members of the two auxiliaries.

The general public and all organizations are asked to take part in this Memorial Day service and all flowers may be brought to the Legion hall Monday afternoon and evening before seven o'clock.

Members of the V. F. W. will visit St. Mary's cemetery at Buffalo Grove and Euclid Lawn. A group from Palatine will visit the Randolph Park and Mt. Prospect cemetery on Arlington Heights road.

Memorial Sunday Services
As is their annual custom to attend services at one of the local churches on Memorial Sunday, members of the American Legion, V. F. W. and their auxiliaries will this year attend the services at the Methodist church at eleven o'clock Sunday morning. The general public, especially those whose families have given a loved one to their nation during the past year are invited.

Businessmen respond to July 4th appeal

Arthur W. Franzen of the finance committee for the Arlington Heights July 4th celebration reports that the business men have given a quick response to letters mailed to them last week asking that they repeat their purchases of July 4th tags, made by them last year. The plan to ask all citizens to have a part in the financial underwriting of the project has met with favor and a number of the business firms are increasing their pledges on that basis.

The use of the profits for a war memorial and recreation program for the entire town has received wholehearted approval in words. The approval in dollars will be learned the coming week after the letters are delivered to all homes within the village. The committee has made the payment of pledges easy by enclosing addressed envelopes with the letters. The letters can be mailed or left at the bank.

Help! Help!

H. C. Paddock Sons has faced a labor shortage for some time. They have found that the hiring of men who are not tied to the town by having their families with them is not the solution. The publishers are endeavoring to secure two employees who, if they come, must bring their families with them. One of them will report Saturday.

In other words homes are needed. This man needs a room for himself until he can find a house that he can rent and he can send for his family. The Herald asks the aid of its readers in securing the necessary temporary room and later the address of a house that can be rented. A second house will be needed later. Will you help the publishers?

An outstanding feature of the evening will be the Commencement Exercises of the kindergarten. The members of the class will appear in cap and gown to receive their diplomas. After the program the gathering is invited to view an extensive exhibit of class work, and, to enjoy refreshments served by the Mother's Club.

The mothers of the eighth grade will honor the graduates with a class dinner and social on June 1 beginning at 6:30 p. m. The class is working out its own program of entertainment.

Tax collectors announce dates for collections

All tax bills for the northwest towns will be in the mail by the end of this week and the collectors are opening their offices to receive the taxpayers.

As there have been many property sales this year and the changes have not been made on the books, persons who receive bills for property they have sold are asked to turn them over to the new owner or return them to the local collector with the name of the new owner.

Local collectors will have the books until the latter part of June, within a few days of the penalty date so all taxpayers will have plenty of time to pay their bills to their home town collector.

Palatine—T. C. Hart, collector. Monday, May 29 to Monday, June 26, 1944. Hours, 9 a. m. to 12 noon, 1 p. m. to 4 p. m., except Wednesday afternoons. Saturday evenings, 7 to 9 p. m.

17 pay fines for neglect to buy vehicle tags

Seventeen Arlington Heights residents paid fines this month because they were "too busy" to purchase 1944 vehicle tags. "There will be many more," says Chief Skoog, "as soon as we discover the tagless cars."

The Sunswick Corporation, holder of the larger part of the Arlington Heights big sewer bonds, is asking the municipality to start foreclosure proceedings against all lots, farms and improved property that are delinquent. Several conferences have been held with the village board. Monday night Mr. Sullivan, of Markham, Donovan and Sullivan, appeared before the board, presenting ordinances which if passed by the board would be the first step in the proceedings that would bring to a decision the status of the outstanding sewer bonds.

The members of the village board have not committed themselves as to what action they will take. The attorneys for the bond holders claim that the municipality as trustee of the bonds, has no other course than to acquiesce in the request made of them.

Suggestions previously made were that practice lots be picked out for foreclosure, also that the proceedings cover all delinquent specials and general taxes.

Apparently the attorneys prefer to confine their interest in the proceedings to the sewer bonds, which their client owns. At the present time there is a law suit pending against the village by the Sunswick corporation asking for judgment aggregating $60,000 for alleged irregular certificates issued against the assessment. Arlington Heights flatly denied the claim and has refused offers of a compromise judgment.

A mass of testimony has been taken before a master of chancery in said suit. No statement has yet been made by the bond holders regarding their willingness to drop said claims and to assume the costs that have accumulated by the many hearings, if the village permits the foreclosure.

The sewer bonds still have five more years to run. The holders take the stand that nothing is to be gained by any further delay as the more taxes that pile up, the more difficult will be the job of getting the properties back on the tax books.

Among the property affected are a number of farms against which there only exist the big sewer assessment. The law provides a period of redemption by the property owners. The bond holders further state that if foreclosure proceedings are started in the near future there will be several years before clear title can be secured.

It is no secret that the Sunswick Corporation expect that threatened foreclosure will force many property owners to a settlement before the actual sale of their property. It is also no secret that the village board will not knowingly be a party to the foreclosure plan unless certain that the property owners have some protection. A blanket foreclosure over the entire town is not favored by Mayor Goedke and some of the board members. They suggest that a start be made on smaller tracts.

Palatine Lutheran church engages an assistant pastor

The Rev. E. Runge of Lohman, Mo., has been engaged by the Board of Elders of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Palatine to take the pastor, the Rev. W. C. Koester, in his parish duties.

The need for additional help has arisen because of the growth of the congregation and an expanding program of service to the men of the community in the armed forces. Recognizing that need, the congregation resolved to grant assistance to their busy pastor.

The Rev. Runge comes from a successful pastorate in the proximity of Jefferson City, Mo., where he has served as both pastor and teacher for the past 17 years. He is expected to assume his new duties about the middle of June. He will be in full charge of the congregation during the last two weeks in June while Pastor Koester serves on the publicity committee of the International Lutheran Church convention at Saginaw, Michigan. Pastor Koester's committee will be concerned largely with expanding the church's program of visual education and will also consider the establishment of a public relations department in the Lutheran church.

• John Deithloff, who began his "North Western" career in 1909, is well aware of the importance of his job. He says, "War has the right-of-way now and we've all got to do our part to see that fighting men and materials are transported safely."

John's work calls for patrolling some 20-odd miles of track between Proviso Yard and Valley, day in and day out. He inspects... he tests... he checks. Automatic block signals, automatic crossing gates, wigwag and flasher signals—all these and more must be maintained in perfect working order. Safety decrees it—victory demands it.

"North Western" depends on John Deithloff and men like him to help safeguard its right-of-way. But this ex-Marine fighter, who fought overseas in World War I, has something extra special to be proud of—three sons and a daughter in service.

Emulating their father's example, 21-year-old Richard and 20-year-old Donald are members of the Marine Corps—now somewhere overseas. Seaman Allen, 18 years old, is serving on the U. S. S. Hazelwood. While Ruth, who enlisted a year ago, proudly wears the uniform of the WAVES.

But it matters little to the Deithloffs where they serve in this war just so long as they are privileged to serve. How grateful we should be that here in America there are millions like them!

100% valuation

schools $260,000

More than 100 Board Members, representing 38 School Districts in Cook County, attended a meeting to discuss the loss of Special Equalization Aid from the State of Illinois, caused by the re-assessment of property in Cook County. The loss in revenue to these districts is approximately $260,000.

The following Resolution was unanimously adopted by those in attendance:

Moved by William A. Rasmusson of District 122, Oak Lawn, and Seconded by Mr. Arthur J. Larson, of District 158, Lansing, "That the members of the General Assembly be requested to take such action as is possible to enable these 38 school districts in Cook County Equalization Aid which they would have received had there been no re-assessment of real and personal property in Cook County."

It is hoped that the Legislature will consider this a non-partisan problem and will give prompt relief to these needy school districts. No school in division one and two has been receiving this special aid, but its loss will be severely felt by the East Maine, Riverview and James Giles schools in this part of Cook County. Schools merited the special aid which assessed valuation is not sufficient to pay the necessary educational costs of a district.

Health at fifty
by C. W. LUSSMAN
of Sieburg Pharmacy

As the declining period of life begins every man and woman should have a physical check-up by a physician to detect the beginnings of diseases which tend to shorten the life span.

The most common of these diseases are high blood pressure, diabetes, kidney disease, goiter, cancer, and other infections.

Experience has proved that a rather long period of comparatively good health after fifty is in store for those who take measures to prevent the onset and progress of disease.

Many local boys enter grade track meet

The grade school track and field meet, sponsored by the Dad's club was held at the high school athletic field last Saturday afternoon. Arlington Heights schools were well represented but there were no boys from either Mt. Prospect or Prospect Heights entered. It is hoped that in future events that all students in the high school district can attend and gain the advantage of competition and probably new friends.

Many of the eighth grade boys stood out in their respective events. Those who were most noticeable in their efforts were Lou Draper, Al Henken and Lasley. Draper won three first place ribbons in the following events—50 yd. dash, broad jump and high jump. The time of the various running events was not recorded.

The following is a tabulation of the results:
50 yd. dash, Draper 1st; Dieber, 2nd; Theis, 3rd.
100 yd. dash, Henken 1st; Lasley 2nd; Hill 3rd.
220 yd. dash, Weber 1st; Robinson 2nd; Stockdale 3rd.

The kite flying contest will be held a week from this Sunday, June 4. It will be held at the west side of the South school grounds and will start at 2:30 p. m. sharp. The rules of this contest will be published next Thursday. The large crowd of people that witnessed the Youth Convention parade last Sunday at Portage Park were loud in their praise of the Arlington Hts. Cubs. The boys put on a wonderful exhibition of marching and showed that they had been well drilled. Mr. Martin Freeman was the drill master and deserves great credit for the way the boys performed. It must be satisfying to see your efforts rewarded all along the route of march. People lining the curb for the entire distance were thrilled by the way the boys acted. While winners have not been announced this reporter feels sure that 1st prize will continue to rest in the Arlington Heights Cub Pack.

For those of you that didn't get to Portage Park we would recommend your attendance at the Memorial Day parade in the Heights when the Cubs will march again. The baseball schedule is published elsewhere in the paper.

The Cubs are asked to be at the village hall at 9:00 a.m. Saturday for hand bill distribution.

Just Around the Corner

(This is the fifth in a series of articles about Arlington Heights ministers).

In the eight and one half years during which the Reverend George J. Stier has been connected with the St. James Catholic Church in Arlington Heights the people of his congregation have come to know that the vow of poverty and humility which their priest once took is a way of life with him. One of them said, "Father Stier is not just a counselor; he is a good shepherd."

On September 21, 1918, Father Stier was ordained at Holy Name Cathedral in Chicago, and last fall his church here paid him tribute on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his entry into the priesthood. He had decided to study toward his ordination while he was yet a grammar school pupil at St. Theresa and St. Michael's.

For five years, after leaving grammar school, he was a student at St. Lawrence College in Mt. Calvary, Wisconsin where he took a classical course in the high school and preparatory seminary there.

His philosophical and theological courses were taken, for six years at the St. Paul Major Seminary in St. Paul, Minnesota. He finished his theological study at what is now Mundelein College. He is a charter member of this school as he first went there immediately after the Diocese had purchased the Sheldon Correspondence School and used its buildings and campus as a nucleus for the new institution.

Following his ordination, he spent eight years as a curate at St. Philomena's in Chicago and then three and one-half years at St. Pascals. He was a curate at St. Aloysius in Chicago for a year and a half before he went to his first pastorate at St. Mary's Church in Fremont Center where he remained for three and one-half years.

In August, 1935, he came to Arlington Heights. The members of his church here are devoted to Reverend Stier. The respect and affection they have for him glows in their voices when they speak of him. It is easy to understand. I have seen him only once, talked with him for little more than half an hour, but the kindness, humor and quiet dignity of his warm personality will stay with me for a long time.

Next week we hope to have ready a story about Arlington Heights' Christian Science Church and its leaders here which will complete my series of sketches. We don't know when we ever learned so much in such a short time as we have these past few weeks in talking with ministers and we can not help but feel that our village is fortunate to have such a group of men working for its spiritual welfare. We'd like to thank Reverend Stier, Reverend Kampenkel, Reverend McCoy, Reverend Vondracek and Reverend Stier for the interviews they found moments for.

Large attendance at 1944 summer roundup

The summer Round Up programs for pre-school children held under the auspices of the Arlington P.T.A. in the public schools, the Mother's club in St. Peter's school and the Women's Guild in St. James Catholic school, with the cooperation of the Health Center, were successfully carried on last week.

A check up of all children entering kindergarten and first grade next fall for the first time was made by local physicians and dentists.

The Health Center and the organizations who sponsored the round up wish to thank all who offered their services in these examinations. The following doctors made examinations: Dr. Elfeld, Dr. Meisenheimer and Dr. Lockhand, while dental examinations were made by Dr. Baumann and Dr. Dunn.

The public school round up was under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Evans, chairman of the Welfare committee. She was assisted by Mrs. Morrissey, Mrs. McCarty, Mrs. Gross, Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Gregg, Mrs. Frasier, Mrs. Lyman and Mrs. Glow. Fifty-eight children attended this round up.

At St. James round up Mrs. Jack Clark as chairman was assisted by Mrs. Jorgenson and Mrs. Cizek. Twenty children attended.

At St. Peter's school the Mother's club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Blaschke, had charge of the round up. Those assisting Mrs. Blaschke were Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. Wilke. Eighteen children were examined here.

This year parents were urged to take their children to their family doctor and dentist for examination if at all possible, thus cutting down the work at the round up.

The results of these physical examinations indicate that each year parents of pre-school children are making more earnest efforts to have their children properly immunized against diphtheria and smallpox and to have all physical and dental defects corrected before they enter school.

John Monroes to leave Heights

On Saturday, May 27, Arlington Heights is losing one of its best liked and most civic minded families. Mr. John S. Monroe will come from Minneapolis Thursday to help his wife and two sons, Jack and Robert move to their new home at 4740 Girard avenue in Minneapolis where they have bought a roomy house built on three nicely planted lots. Mr. Monroe's father, the Rev. W. C. Monroe, formerly of Woodstock will accompany them to Minneapolis and reside with them.

Mr. Monroe, who left his position in the market analysis department of the Nielson company in Chicago is now doing special market analysis work in the market research department of General Mills.

During the twelve years in which the Monroes have lived here they have taken part in many village activities. Mr. Monroe has worked with the cub scouts and resigned his secretaryship of the scout committee of Troop 32 of the Boy Scouts when he went to Minnesota early in March. For two years he was a member of the Arlington Heights school board.

Mrs. Monroe was chairman of the Arlington Heights Unit of Home Bureau for two years and served a year as treasurer for the Parent Teacher Association. She is leaving, when she goes to Minneapolis, her position as chairman of the Consumer's Information Committee for the O.C.D. Friends we talked to here say they will miss her ready smile even more than her excellent cooking.

Thirteen year old Jack will leave a "lonesome place" in the local Boy Scout organization, and seven year old Robert will have to work fast to gain new pals to take his mind off the one he is leaving behind. They can both be sure they will not be forgotten.

The Monroe social calendar has been and will be until they are gone, crowded.

Last Thursday Mrs. Monroe was presented with a beautiful lapel pin at a party for her Thursday Night Bridge Club given at the home of Mrs. Warren Fellingham. She and the children spent Saturday in Libertyville at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Weiskopf, and Sunday in Chicago with the Paul Fellinghams. Tuesday night the Arlington Heights Home Bureau told her goodbye. On Wednesday, Mrs. Raymond Atkinson invited friends to tea in honor of Mrs. Monroe.

On Friday evening the Monroes will have dinner at the Warren Fellingham home. Saturday morning they will breakfast with the Leslie Moodies and on their way out of town they will lunch at the Robert Fellinghams in Barrington.

Red Cross to work again at fieldhouse

The needs of the Red Cross have met a fine response from the women of Arlington Heights, and the facilities at the Field House can accommodate many more volunteers.

Surgical dressings and articles made in the sewing room are urgently required, as the armed forces prepare to go into greater action. Workers must keep pace with these needs, so that no man in our Army, Navy or Marine Corps will lack the dressings, hospital garments or comfort kits which will contribute to his safety and well-being.

On Thursday, June 1, Red Cross will reconvene at the Field House for the start of its second year of work here. Since the Birthday Party planned for May 11 had to be cancelled, and the group has been unable to meet for the past three weeks, because of the closing of the field house, there is a great deal of work to be done. Quotas have been increased, and an enforced idleness has put the group behind schedule in their output. A large number of workers is needed to catch up on production.

Luncheon will be served by the Canteen Corps. For reservations, please call 511-J by Monday. The meeting will be open from 10 until 4 p. m.

Tickets at door

If you haven't your ticket for "Breakfast at Sardi's" which will take place at the Methodist Meeting House Friday, May 26 at 10 a. m. you may get one at the door where a limited number are being held. Preparations have been made to serve 275 guests. If you find that you can come after all, fix up that goofy hat quickly and we will be seeing you.

To speak here

The Reverend Stuart Meier of the Lakeview Presbyterian church in Patterson, New Jersey, will speak to the Presbyterian congregation here Sunday. Reverend Meier is a delegate to the 156th Assembly of the Presbyterian church in America being held this week and next in Chicago.

Deck Cadet Suelcial Edward Wild of the United States Merchant Marine has just finished an intensive communications course in New Orleans. He arrived home Saturday to spend a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aribert Wild of Kirchoff road.

St. James women elect officers

Mrs. Ralph Hull, who formerly served as a delegate to the National Council of Catholic Women and has been an ardent worker for St. James Women's Guild, was elected the guild's new president Tuesday evening. She succeeds Mrs. Jack Clarke. Mrs. Richard Weidner is the new treasurer. Officers who were re-elected are: 1st vice-president, Mrs. John Intravartolo; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Edwin Weidner; secretary, Mrs. William Edberg. Mrs. Joseph Muran is the retiring treasurer. Committee chairmen will be appointed soon by the president.

The St. James Women's Guild is busy now with preparations and arrangements for the Day of Recollection planned for June 25 at the church.

Home bureau gains new members

Members of the Arlington Hts. Unit of Home Bureau greeted new members at their meeting Tuesday evening and said good bye to members who are leaving. Games were played and the ladies relaxed a bit from the strenuous study of home making.

Clarence Davis of the Presbyterian Men's Class will read the tendered the Antique Show held at class discussion on "The Life of the Evanston Woman's Club this Paul" Sunday.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary,

I think your last letter ended the first round of our argument, traditional architecture and "Old" furnishings (except bathrooms and kitchens) versus Functional architecture and the new furniture . . . and I believe if we had a referee, the first round would go to you . . . your sketch of the little old church is charming and I'm proud of your work, old Bean! . . . did you enter it in the community Art Exhibit? . . . and if not, why not? . . . (I'm guessing that you were too modest) . . . but your bringing up old churches and church architecture was a knockout blow for me! . . . if, as I've already confessed, I know very little about architecture and interior decoration and have only my personal preferences to guide me, then I'm totally ignorant on the matter of churches! . . .

But here I come, "bloody but unbowed" for Round Two! . . . I don't think New England villages would be half so pleasing to the eye, if they were not punctuated by their little white churches with the tall steeples . . . but I doubt if the builders of those churches had in mind "pleasing the eye" of anyone . . . the interiors appeared quite bleak and unimaginative to me . . . the benches were functional if the designers had in mind keeping the congregation awake during sermons! . . . churches seem to me to reflect the particular beliefs of the sect that builds them . . . to New Englanders "life is real, life is earnest," . . . there isn't room in it for color or superfluous decorations . . .

Churches and cathedrals in old Mexico are just the opposite . . . there is color and gilt everywhere . . . almost no surface is plain, everything is decorated . . . the facades are sometimes amazingly elaborate . . . I remember one very old church whose entire facade was covered with brilliantly colored tiles . . . I can't honestly say that I liked these churches or thought that they were beautiful . . . I wondered how anyone could keep his mind on the services when there was so much to distract the eye all about him . . . but these churches reflect the Mexican character . . . to Mexicans life is a joyous poem . . . that is when they are awake and not "mad" at anyone!

There are so many churches in Quebec, the most theatrically picturesque that I've ever seen, that if they were torn down the place would be mostly vacant lots . . . they are to me a part of my memory of this beautiful old city but I can't remember them separately! . . .

The only church that I believe I've ever seen that isn't built in traditional style is the Bahai temple in Wilmette . . . I've deliberately made up my mind not to enter it until they announce that it is finished because it gives promise of being my ideal of what a church should be . . . it looks like I might be a very old lady indeed when that time comes so I hope it will fulfill its promise . . . remember when we were children and it was just a queer hump in the ground covered by ugly black tar paper . . . people who have been in it tell me that light notes in from all sides as well as from the front . . . this certainly is symbolic of Bahaiism which as I understand it is an attempt to combine the light, or wisdom, of all the religions in one . . . some place I've come across the phrase "stone lake" . . . I can think of no better description of the outside of the Bahai temple . . . have you seen it at night when they light it from within? . . . I think it is very beautiful but it must be even more lovely when seen from a boat far out on the lake . . .

And now, having been all over our continent only to wind up in our home town of Wilmette in this letter, I might as well come to Roselle to see that new dressing room of yours! . . . but I shall come alone . . . the very thought of any of my brood getting loose in that room gives me yet another white hair . . . what J. D. would do to those pink skirts with the eyelet embroidery and the black velvet bows makes me shudder to think of it . . . Davy would be half way up to the ceiling before one could count to ten climbing your ivy entwined water pipe under the conviction that it was Jack's Beanstalk! . . . and while I was attending to him, Charlie would have your lovely green and pink walls all smudged trying to reach the "Pitty itty pink woses!" . . . Louis would sit down in the middle of the shiny black floor and refuse to leave this room giving only the simplest explanation that he liked this room the best! . . . Lackaday!

Will you please come in here to see us as soon as you can! . . . we're a different family now that spring is really here . . . Dave has repaired the fence and done a wonderful job of it . . . the lilies of the valley you gave me are all up and almost in bloom . . . you can't imagine how they please me . . . I go out the first thing every morning just to look at them . . . there are pink buds on the bushes in the front yard . . . I want you to tell me what they are . . . the swing, sandpile and J. D.'s pen are out and in full use . . . the vine on the back stoop is so lusty that Dave had to put up two more wires for it . . . Estelle bought herself a spray and some sort of insecticide today and went out immediately with a fierce glare in her eye looking for bugs! . . . Charlie has her first doll buggy . . . she fills it with sand and buries Patsy the doll . . . and then forgets all about them . . . no maternal instinct apparent yet . . . I've dug every dandelion out of the front lawn and we all have a touch of sunburn . . . Dave came home in the front door the other night carrying a huge and terrifying instrument resembling the devil's trident which turned out to be a cultivator for his Victory garden . . .

With love from us all,
As always,
Eleonore.

It happened here

The vacant lot cherry tree, now in full bloom, is having its May showings, early and late, the early and late hours being preferable when the low sun sends lances of pure gold thru the tender, new foliage and steeps the world with green-gold light. The tree may be seen from our own garden lawn, but that is not the best vantage point so we pay it the tribute of a special visit in the evening glow when the sun is low beyond all the blossomy trees. There never was a more pleasant stroll into a world so fresh and new, and there are so many things to delay us; there is the perfume from the lilies of the valley under the west windows, the sharp scent of the cottonwoods and the plaintive call of the oriole and the urge to identify him as he flits branch to branch.

At the corner of the lane we are stopped by three little boys and a bicycle. "Hello," says Ralph, the neighbor boy, "did you come out just to see our pretty tree?" He speaks with the pride of one who owns a masterpiece. So the whole cortege, boys, bicycle and all move along down the lane and stand to gaze at The Tree, now rating capitals because it stands by itself in the lush grass and has flowered into a perfectly rounded crown of white; we are all much impressed and compare it with trees we proudly boast in our own yards. It is a season and an hour of pure loveliness with hints of blossoming trees overhanging grey roofs or hidden in clustering leafage. We train our glasses on the tree where the oriole is calling and our party is increased by three passers-by, a man and three children, all three very unkempt and unhappy looking, but, somehow, when Peggy explains to them about the oriole, they sense her friendliness and become less unhappy. There is just time for one more look at the lilies of the valley, those "little baby bonnets on a green clothes line."

LET'S BE HEALTHY

by the Arlington Heights Health Center affiliated with the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County.

Eating should not only be pleasant, it should be "profitable." The word "profitable" is used to mean the promoting and maintaining of good health.

It has been said, "You are what you eat." While not true in the strictest sense of the word, this slogan emphasizes that proper eating can go far toward maintaining a healthy, happy life and toward warding off disease.

These days when we are all working harder than ever, perhaps long and irregular hours with resultant loss of sleep, proper diet takes on extra importance. Today it is our duty, to ourselves, our community and our country, to keep physically fit. Good balanced diet will do much to accomplish this.

YOUR diet each day should include the following:
At least one pint of milk (more for children and young people.)

Two fruits (one raw).
Two vegetables (one raw) one green leafy and one yellow.
One egg.
One serving of whole grain cereal.
One serving of meat, fish or fowl (liver once a week).
Butter, or its equivalent.
Meals should be carefully planned to take best advantage of ration points. With recent rulings allowing more liberal distribution of certain foods, the family eating problem is not so acute as it has been in past months. Now, if ever, is the time for housewives to become more versatile cooks by investigating new recipes to take advantage of commodities which are available and to make meals more appetizing.

Meals should be an event . . . well prepared, attractively served and wholesome. The smart housewife knows what her "boarders" like, how to serve it and what is good for them. By carefully blending these three factors, she can do much to keep them well and happy.

SELLING OUT SUIT
Leonard Lazar has sued Tony Turner in Superior court over a barber shop sale in Skokie. He states he bought Turner's half interest in a Skokie barber shop January 3, 1941, for $1,000. It was agreed Turner should not engage in the barber business there for five years. But it is claimed Turner later began working in another shop there. Lazar protested against this breach of contract but Turner persisted in his work. An injunction was asked to stop him from barbering as agreed on by contract.

Rhode Island

Now at Melville, Rhode Island, is Fred Brautigan of Palatine. "Have changed my address again and am now in Melville, Rhode Island. We are located on a piece of land that sticks out into the Atlantic. It gets cold enough here that we have to start a fire. I am going to P.T. school here and hope I make the grade all right. "The base here is pretty nice. We live in Quanscit huts, 15 men to a hut. You have a lot more privacy than if you live with 250 other guys. At least here if you miss your shoes in the morning you know there are only 15 shoes to blame, not 250. The chow is some of the best, even strawberry shortcake once in a while. This is one thing I haven't had at any other base. "Calisthenics and sports are very much in demand because there is not much else to do besides go to movies and a dance every once in a while. The movies are shown every other day. Even though a person sees movies in school, and then sees movies for pleasure, it doesn't really seem like it does at home, if you can see my point. Of course there are many ways we make our jobs fun, such as competition on the rifle range, etc. "Here's hoping the Enterprises catch me pretty soon because I miss them. The boys that came from Richmond with me miss them too. Especially 2 who saw a piece about someone they know. Keep 'em coming." His new address is Fred Brautigan F 1/c, MTBSTC, Div 21 Hut 432, Melville, Rhode Island.

Third star

The Arnold Hatch home on Elm-hurst avenue in Mt. Prospect displays a three star service flag in its window.

Melvin Hatch, the youngest of the three brothers in service, is a private, 1st class, in the army air corps. He has been in service for almost two years. He is learning to be a radar technician and studied for almost a year in Chicago, and is now located in Drew Field, Florida. He writes that he never enjoyed civilian life as much as he enjoys his work in the army.

Stanton Hatch is scheduled to enter service in the navy by June 1. He is married and has two children and naturally is hoping for an assignment at Great Lakes, where he can be close to his family as long as possible.

The eldest brother, Robert, entered service last October, and after seven weeks of training was sent overseas. The fact that Robert has had three years of National Guard training accounts for his being pushed on so fast. He is somewhere in Italy at the present, a private in the infantry. His family has had no recent news from him, but his last letter received in April indicated that he was well and in fine spirits.

No. Carolina

Frances Schenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Schenberger, East Euclid Ave., Arlington Heights will complete her "boot" training at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina in two more weeks. She had been waiting to reach her 20th year in order to join the Women's Marine Corps and writes home that it meets all her expectations and can't be beat. Prior to her enlistment, she was an operator and calculator of engine testing at the Buick plant, which granted her a release to enter the Marine service.

Letters from friends at home are as welcome to girls in the service as to the boys. Her address is Pvt. Frances Schenberger, U.S.M., C.W.R., Recruit Barracks 118, Com E, Platoon 3, 32nd Bn., Camp Lejeune North Carolina.

Letters from friends at home are as welcome to girls in the service as to the boys. Her address is Pvt. Jack Haben of Wheeling has won a place on the track team at Scott Field. He has been chosen to run in the 100, 220 yd. dash in a sports meet to be held soon, in competition with Jefferson Barracks and Fort Leonard Wood. Jack is attending radio school and expects to graduate in July.

New Jersey

Now at Camp Kilmer, New Jersey, is Julius Ziesek of Arlington Heights. Julius just recently returned from two and one-half years duty overseas, having spent much time in New Caledonia. He was in the national guard when they were called and trained for considerable time at Camp Forrest, Tenn. When he left Forrest he was immediately sent overseas.

Biggest news for Julius while home was seeing his 2 year old daughter, Judith Lorraine, for the first time. His wife is the former Lorraine Frenz of Chicago. She expects to move to New Jersey the early part of June in order to be with her husband.

Just before last Christmas Julius wrote a letter to his daughter. The editors believe it warrants publication in part.

"This is your second Christmas. I imagine you're asking all about Santa Claus. I know he'll be good to you. I've been asking him for a long time to send me home to you, but he doesn't seem to listen to me. Perhaps he will next year. "What I wouldn't do to see your big blue eyes when you see that tree with all the lights. But this Christmas when I go to church my prayers and thoughts will be with you.

"In years to come you'll probably wonder what your old man meant in writing to you when you were so young and couldn't possibly understand a thing. But darling I realize that anything can happen and does it this old world. "So I'd like to have something with a personal touch for you from me telling how much you mean to me. I'm not a great one at expressing myself with words but I know that in time you'll understand."

His address is Cpl. Julius J. Ziesek, TC Det. Bldg. 610, Camp Kilmer, New Jersey.

Utah

From Tooele, Utah, comes word of Harold Framberg of Arlington Heights.

"Greetings to all of my best friends and neighbors whom I truly love and respect. I sure miss everyone in my small community and I only hope and pray I can return home real soon. A fellow never realizes how much he has until it is taken away from him for a while.

"I want my mother to have a real Happy Mother's Day along with all the other mothers who have sons away from home. We are all thinking of you, mother, on this day, and only wish we could be home with you on your day. We will all be home soon and believe me we are counting on it. "I may leave here soon, but nothing is certain. I want to get this over with soon. In fact if I could get overseas with my friends I would be happy. I know all the parents are worried but we don't want them to. We're all well and happy and we'll come back when it's over."

His address is Pfc. H. Framberg, SCU 1901, POW camp, Tooele, Utah.

Idaho

From Farragut, Idaho, comes word of Robert Machnik of Palatine.

"I would like to thank you and the Legion Auxiliary for sending me the Palatine Enterprise. I enjoy it to its fullest extent. I believe this paper is doing much in building up morale of the boys in the Armed Forces.

"Farragut is a very nice place. We get a liberty every two weeks which seems far apart, but when we get them there is fun by all. "The Gunner's Mate school here is very fine and interesting. We get 8 hours a day for six days a week. The instructors we have here are good men. Most of them have seen plenty of action, so they are well qualified for the job."

His address is Robert L. Machnik S 2/c G.M. School, Sec 68, Camp Peterson, Farragut, Idaho.

Gives eyewitness tale of Truk lagoon battle

Sending a vivid account of the recent battle of Truk, we believe, is James McDougall of Arlington Heights. Jim serves aboard an aircraft carrier.

"At the moment we are resting up from a recent excursion against the now-not-so-bold Japs. You may have read all about it in the papers, but I'll tell you a bit about it anyway. Boy, I never thought I'd ever get that far away from home! The trip was something. Day after day we kept nosing west, and each evening the sun would set directly over the bow in a flare of the most gorgeous red and purple you ever saw. If an artist painted it, nobody would believe him. "Once, as we watched the sun go down, one of our screening destroyers got a sub contact at 500 yards, and it didn't come to anything.

"One day the ship was accosted by a motley looking crew of tough looking characters who came aboard looking for 'pollywogs.' They gave some of the lads—I won't say which ones—some of the darndest haircuts. You might say they got scalped at both ends. The whole fracas came to a climax on the well-deck when the pollywogs were carefully and systematically eliminated with swats and swigs and good salt water. At the end King Neptune seemed well satisfied that there were no more pollywogs on the old Frisco Maru. I may add that Yours Truly was in the thick of it all.

Japs get curious

"It seems that the Japs must have gotten a bit curious about the ceremonies we were holding because just about that time they sent out a scouting plane to take a few observations. They took one look at Davey Jones, though, and promptly scrambled. (Some of the pollywogs tried to do the same, but with no success). We figured that since they had seen us, they might take it into their heads to send out a little reception committee to welcome us when we arrived at our destination.

"Instead of that, however, their heavy warships were reported to head in the other direction. The Japs aren't as polite as they used to be. I believe one of our subs left its calling card with a Jap battleship as it pulled out. At any rate, as we closed in early in the morning, we were surprised to meet no surface opposition whatever. The planes from the carriers went in for the strike.

"Over the radio we could hear the pilots talking to one another, picking out their targets and going in for the kill. The boys in our mess hall, where the broadcasts were reproduced, got a big kick out of hearing that one after another of the Jap vessels in the lagoon had been sunk. You sure have to hand it to those aviators for the coolness and efficiency with which they work, no matter how severe the AA fire they have to go through. They made quite a mess of the Jap front lawn.

Scratch one

"That night, as expected, came the Jap torpedo planes. It's a funny feeling, waiting at our battle stations, hearing that the planes were on this side, then on that, and expecting them to be on top of us in a moment. Over the radio we heard one of our 'wagons' ask for permission to open fire. No sooner had the OK been given than we saw a short burst of fiery tracers and in a second a great sheet of flame illuminated the night as a plane was hit and fell to the water. One, two, three—the 'wagon' downed them just like that. It was the signal for a general display of Fourth of July all around us. None of the Japs got to their targets, and what was left of them went home.

"Next day the planes were off again from the carriers like a great flock of geese speckling the sky. During the morning we got word that one of our planes had been shot down over the island and we were ordered to send our cruiser plane to pick up the survivors if they could be found. Our senior pilot finally located one man in a rubber boat floating just off the Jap-held beach. He had a pistol in his hand and had kept a small boat that had come out from the beach off at a distance. Our pilot landed in the reef-strewn water and hauled the brave survivor aboard. A couple of hours later he was sitting comfortably in our sick-bay surrounded by a bunch of us, giving us the dope. He stayed with us 'til we could get him back to his own carrier again. In the meantime his companions had devastated the Jap base.

Clean-up job

"Came the second evening, and again the sky was lit up with rivers of fire as we repelled another attack. The Jap was no more successful this time than last. On the third day the task force wheeled away to hit another Jap island base. While the airplanes were striking there, our destroyers were doing a clean-up job on the small Jap ships that kept popping up here and there, apparently ignorant of what was going on and innocently heading for the bases that were under attack. We could see the smoke on the horizon as these little freighters were set on fire by our 'cans.' That night, our work done, we headed east and wended our way out of Indian country.

"You can see that we have been busy. It was good to get back here again to the mail and to swimming call every day. Day before yesterday was Easter and we had services on board, Mass for the Catholics and Holy Communion for the Protestants. This was the second Easter we've had since we left the States. Last year we were just pulling out of Adak in the Aleutians for our first patrol in the Bering Sea. We were steaming slowly along under the lee of the tremendous snow-covered peak of Great Sitkin Island, headed for the Commandorski Islands off the Russian coast. It was cold, but the sun glinted wanly on the white-clad cliffs overhanging the black water.

"Here the sun was hot on Easter Day, although the gently blowing trade wind lent a little refreshment. Neither Easter, this year or last, was like Easter at home in the springtime, and we sure missed you all. But yet I guess the spirit of it can't be changed by climate or war. I was thinking of you and praying God would keep you well and safe 'til we get back again."

New York

Home on leave from Hunter college, New York, is Donna Jeanne Lane of Arlington Heights. Donna has been at Hunter for more than 14 months and is stationed permanently there as a member of the staff.

"We're about ten miles from Manhattan and situated in the Bronx. Whenever we get liberty we usually find more doing down town, thus, I've seen a lot of the city.

"Entire facilities of Hunter have been taken over by the navy for the WAVES boot training school, the only one in the country for the girls.

"Other girls from this area have taken their boot training at Hunter while I've been there, but it's pretty hard to meet any of them. Naomi Budlong of Mt. Prospect is now going through boot at Hunter."

Y 2/c Lane returns to duty June 3.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Did you hear that Tom is going to be inducted into the Army next week, Judge?" "Yes, Frank told me this morning down at the barber shop. Our town's got a lot of men in the service now, Jim. In fact, all towns have. I was just reading in the paper where there are more than 10,000,000 men away from their homes in the armed forces. And, from all reports, they're doing a grand job bringing victory closer every day. "We folks at home have a mighty big obligation to those 10,000,000 fighting men. We've got to produce the food to keep them well fed. We've got to keep them supplied with the ammunition and equipment they need to finish their job. We've got to help the Government pay for all these supplies our men need by buying more and more War Bonds. We'll have another big chance to do that by helping to put the 5th War Loan drive over the top, Jim.

"And, in addition, we must be sure that, while they're away and can't express their opinions, we don't go voting on and deciding any things that will displace them when they come back."

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

Before another issue of the Cook County Herald goes to press the track season in this area will be over. Next week's paper will report results and summary of the final three meets of the year, the Northwest Conference, the Northeast Conference, and the Northeast-Northwest Frosh-Soph. On the whole the quality of track has been good but not outstanding. Blame it on the war and this time at least you hit the nail on the head. A lot of very good boys are in the service or working who would normally be finishing their senior competition this week.

Evanston District Teams Dominated State Meet

When New Trier won the state track meet with 41½ points last Saturday they really demonstrated the supremacy of the Evanston district in track. Three schools from that district, New Trier, Maine, and Evanston finished one, two, three in the state. Here is what this one district out of 16 did in the state finals: (1) took the first three places in the 100 yard dash, the high hurdles, and the 880 yard relay; (2) had the first five places in the 880 relay but Evanston and New Trier were disqualified; (3) won first, second, third, and fourth in the 220 yard dash; (4) took first, second and fourth in the low hurdles; (5) ran one, two in the 440 shot put, 220, and low hurdles; (6) picked up a second in the high jump, a second and a third in the broad jump, and a third in the discus. That is the strength of the local district in which Arlington and Palatine are located. Do you blame these schools for not entering the district meet this year?

A Great Record for a Small School

McHenry high school has a sports record that few schools of its size ever equaled in Illinois. They finished second in the state in the golf meet just three points behind the winning East Rockford team. They had to beat out the big north shore schools to win the district.

Cards have fine ball club.

Coach Earle Joyner of Arlington Heights has a fine ball team which has clinched the conference championship in a four school league. This championship is all the more to be proud of because Leyden's unbeaten champs of last year entered the race almost intact and were beaten twice. Arlington thus may justly boast of being the best team in the past two seasons of Northeast baseball. Pitching is always more than 50 per cent of the team strength in high school baseball and Arlington's staff was certainly a consistent staff of flingers. With two very capable pitchers Arlington would make a good tournament team had they chosen to enter the state series.

NE-NW frosh-sophs vie at Palatine May 29

Crystal Lake is favorite

The fifth annual Northeast-Northwest Conference frosh-soph track meet will be held Monday, May 29 at 6:00 p. m. on the Palatine High school track. The meet is annually sponsored by the neighboring schools, Palatine of the Northwest and Arlington Heights of the Northeast.

Crystal Lake won the meet last year and is a topheavy favorite to repeat. Libertyville was second last year with Antioch and Palatine tied for third. Barrington is expected to make the strongest bid among the Northwest schools which also include Antioch, Bensenville, and Palatine. Northeast schools to compete besides Crystal Lake are Libertyville, Leyden, Niles, Arlington Heights, Lake Forest, and Woodstock.

The only record that seems sure to fall is the discus. Harold Legel of Crystal Lake, a sophomore, has thrown the discus farther this year than the winning mark of 136 feet in the state meet last week. Legel had the best mark in the state in district competition but did not place at Champaign. The mark of 116 feet 8½ inches set by Schaffer of Libertyville in 1942 appears doomed.

The events on the program include 100 yd. dash, 220 yd. dash, 70 yd. high hurdles, 110 yd. low hurdles, 440 yd. dash, 880 yd. run, freshman 440 yd. relay, sophomore 440 yd. relay, shot (8 pound), discus, pole vault, high jump, and broad jump.

THE SPOTLIGHT

Arlington's baseball team annexed an easy victory at the hands of the Warren nine last Friday afternoon. By doing so, the Cardinals cinched beyond all doubt, their claim to an undisputed conference championship. With only one game left to play against Niles, the Cards appear to be heading toward the end of an undefeated season. In the last

Cardinal nine trims Warren

By Earle Joyner

Last Friday Arlington Cards repeated a previous win over Warren by an almost identical score, the first win being 11 to 0 and Friday's 11 to 1. The Cards hit out a total of 10 safeties including a triple by Gaare and doubles by Dahlstrom, Aldrich and Bokelmann.

Bokelmann has adopted a left-handed stance in the batters box and is now pulling plenty of hard hit blows down the right field line. Aldrich stepped into the line-up as a replacement for the naval enlistee Kohler and pounded out three hits in three times at bat to drive in a total of four runs. He stole second once and scored twice.

Robinson's four hit pitching had Warren stopped completely except in the fourth inning when they coupled two hits with a stolen base to produce their lone tally. He's the guy that'll slam 'em out of the lot.

"Ball one!" called the announcer. "That's the eye!" said the loyal fan. "They can't fool Frankie. He's the one that'll wait. He'll make that pitcher stick 'em over—then blowie."

"Strike one!" "Sure, Frankies would let one go by." "Ball two!" "Wo'd I tell you, fellas? Frank is in there with the old eagle eye workin'!" "Ball three!" "Atta boy, Frankie, make 'em be good!"

"Strike two!" "That's all right, it only takes one for Frankie." "Strike three—and out!" With a howl of rage the Frisch rooster leaped to his feet.

"Why that big burglar of an umpire!" he yelled. "That one was three feet wide of the plate if it was an inch!"

TRACK
The track team beat the Barrington Bronchos on the home field last Thursday. The frosh-soph squad also triumphed over the Bronchos's frosh-sophs. This Friday the Northeast Conference track meet will be held at Lake Forest. Favorites are Lake Forest, winners of the Palatine relays and Crystal Lake.

guard in the Merchant Marines and has been through the Panama Canal three times since going to sea last fall. He brought many interesting souvenirs from countries visited so far.

To examine men for Annapolis and West Point

Congressman Ralph E. Church, 10th District, announced today that he has been called upon by the Navy and War Departments to make appointments to Annapolis and West Point. The 10th District will have three vacancies at the Naval Academy and two vacancies at the Military Academy for admission in 1945.

In order to give the young men interested in these appointments equal opportunity to qualify, Mr.
Church announced that he would hold his annual competitive examination of all candidates under the auspices of the Civil Service Commission on Saturday, July 29, 1944.
He has arranged with the Commission for the examination to be held in Cook County at Chicago,
Evanston, Glenview, Morton
Grove, Northbrook, Skokie, Wilmette, and Winnetka; and in Lake County at Antioch, Barrington, Deerfield, Grayslake, Highland Park, Highland Lake Forest, Libertyville, Mundelein, North Chicago, Ravinia, Waukegan and Zion.
All candidates must be actual residents of the 10th District, of sound physical health and good moral character. Those competing for the Annapolis appointments must be not less than 17 nor more than 21 years of age on April 1, 1945, and those interested in the West Point appointments must be not less than 17 (or 19 if from the Army of the United States) nor more than 21 on July 1, 1945.

Letters of application to take the competitive examination should be addressed to Congressman Ralph E. Church, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. The applicant should designate where it would be most convenient for him to take the examination.

Candidates temporarily absent from the 10th District may be examined elsewhere, at such examination points where the Civil Service Commission maintains an office and examiner.
Letters of application must be postmarked before midnight, June 18th.

With Uncle Sam California

There was a Wheeling reunion several weeks ago when Corp.
James Utpadel, Norman Bucher,
S 2/c, T/5 Alvin Bucher and Oscar Laurance U.S.N., spent a Sunday together at the latter's apartment at San Diego. It was the first time that four boys from the home town met there and the boys made the most of it.

Norman has just completed his training in the armed guard at the naval base and has since left for San Francisco. Oscar is attending classes at a Navy Torpedo School.
Jim is a member of a Casualty Company at the Marine Base, San Diego. Alvin came in from Camp Haan, where he is with the C Battery, 833rd A.A. Bn.

Pvt. Gustave Gall of Wheeling has been at home on a 15 day furlough after completing his basic training at Camp Roberts, California. After standing most of the way from California it took him several days to catch up on his sleep.

His two weeks at home were a happy time for his wife and daughters Janet and Barbara, but all too short. Pvt. Gall was to report this week in Texas to receive his next assignment. He is with the heavy artillery.

New Guinea

From New Guinea comes word of Edward Doyle of Arlington Heights.

"Received a paper from Arlington six days ago and saw where one of the fellows from Palatine was listed on a boat in the South Pacific. I went down to the dock to see if that boat was in port, and sure enough, it was there. I went aboard and started looking for this fellow. I found him and we had a great talk together about home. It certainly was great to find someone from home way out here. He was Fred Etteldorf of Palatine.

"Since I returned to duties I have been busy getting the records in order again. While I was gone the rest of the boys moved to an other combat area, of which you have heard. It was the biggest move yet in the Southwest Pacific. I took lot of pictures of Jap equipment that was gathered by the boys.

"Am writing this while on duty.
A lot of the fellows are in the hospital with dengue fever which is bad if it's gone too long. Keep that With Uncle Sam."

His address is Cpl. Edward R.
Doyle, 36359354, APO 713 Unit 1, % PM, San Francisco, Calif.

The will of Mrs. Margaretha Schaeffes, who died in Skokie on uled to return Saturday. He is a

Virginia

Home on furlough are August and Richard Anstedt of Arlington Heights. August has just completed radio school at Atlantic City, New Jersey, and will report to Norfolk, Virginia. Richard has been stationed at Norfolk, but will report to Manhattan Beach, New York. They are both scheduled to return to duties this week-end.

Sunday, May 14, August took a trip to New York city to visit friends. While attending church he felt someone tapping him on the shoulder, and turned to find brother Richard there. Both were surprised, expecting the other to be elsewhere.

Pacific

We're putting Sally Greschner of Arlington Heights somewhere in the Pacific. He's evidently aboard ship, and receives his mail through San Francisco, Calif.

"In this short space of time, about 7 weeks, I've covered many a mile, several thousand on the deep. Had the pleasure of meeting Bob Briggs of N. Haddow ave., Arlington. He has been in the service about two years. Bob is also on a destroyer. It was just a lucky break that we saw each other. We spent most of our time talking about our neighbors back home, and about how many men are still left at home.

"I'm storekeeper and also have duties on Radar. I find them both quite interesting. As I'd had two years of navigation prior to my enlistment, it all comes in handy. Many thanks to the Civil Air patrol for effort and time given to many of us now serving.

"Destroyer duty is rugged at times. I heard a fellow remark the other day that we should be given submarine pay for at times only the mast of the ship is above the water. You know, my hat fell overboard one day, but I just waited while the ship rolled and the water raised my hat right up to my head again.

"One day we met some Limeys. They were comparing notes on the size of ships. One said their ships were so large they had to use a jeep to travel between the ship sections. Well, ours are so large that the cook has to use a submarine to see if the spuds are done while making stew."

His address is Sylvester Greschner, S 2/c, % FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

We'll put Fred Kehe of Arlington Heights out in the sunny Pacific.

"I'm back at the old grind again. It was great to be home for those few days. You never realize how good your old home town is until you've been away. It's still the same old Arlington. If anyone tells you a different that person ought to be run out of town.

"I want to express my appreciation for the recent traveling bank gift. It was great of my friends to make it so successful. I was sure surprised. Such a gift makes one realize the people at home are thinking of him.

"Wonder what's happened to all the Cub fans. I suppose they didn't want to get too much of a head-start on the rest of the league!"

His address is Fred Kehe, RM 3/c, K Div, % FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Great Lakes

Harold Shugart Ratliff, 37, of 510 Beverly Lane, Arlington Hts., has been graduated from recruit training as honor man of his company at the U. S. Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, and is now on "boot" leave.

Ratliff was elected candidate by his fellow bluejackets and selected honor man by his company commander on the basis of military aptitude and progress. He has been recommended to attend Radar Operator's school for further training.

Prior to joining the Navy he was employed as a trust administrator at the Northern Trust Company, 50 South LaSalle street, Chicago.

He is spending his leave with his wife and two sons in Arlington Heights.

Home on leave from Great Lakes is Wilbert Heinemann of Arlington Heights. Wilbert has completed boot training and is scheduled to return to Great Lakes May 29. Future plans are unknown.

Italy

Writing from the Anzio beach-head in Italy is Al Duenn of Arlington Heights.

"I just thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know everything here is well under control. I have a little correction to make on the last letter you printed. In that letter I said I would gladly trade places with any soldier in the States. Not any place. The Pacific war is just as tough and sometimes it may be a little tougher. I was trained to fight in the terrain I am in and not in the jungles.

"As far as being amphibious is concerned I made a few landings and also made these on D-day. These landings are hard on a guy's mind. When you see a bomb coming out of the sky it looks like a house. Matt Loibl of Wheeling made a landing with me one day and he will vouch for all of this.

"While on the boat you are almost helpless. The navy is our only protection. These sailors do a good job and when we hit the beach everybody says a little prayer and starts chasing the Germans. They are a hard lot to catch. Once they stop and fight we have a battle on our hands. As everyone knows the infantry does a lot of walking and Berlin is a long way off. You can't hurry a war along.

"I've seen thousands of German prisoners and each time they seem to get younger. I wish you could hear some of the programs the German radio puts on for us Yanks and Tommies. The way they talk we have lost this war. They had us in places I never heard of. This program is to bust our morale. It does just the opposite, it boosts it.

"I can tell you now that I am in the third infantry division and not a better outfit existed. We have the right to say we never failed to take our objective. There has been a lot written in the papers about this beachhead. You will never know how things are out here unless you have been here.

"I have been here since it started and it has been hot for us, but hotter for the Germans. They learned a big lesson when they tried to put us back in the water. We just were not in the mood to get wet and decided to stay.

"Thanks a lot for the paper. It is good to read the news about home and especially the bowling scores. I've been following the scores of both the women's league and the men's. I picked out five from each league, and the men won by a few pins."

His address is Cpl. Albert E. Duenn, 36003997, APO 3, c-o PM New York, N. Y.

From Italy comes word of Robert Haberstick of Roselle.

"Haven't been receiving my mail very regularly lately, but when it does come I certainly read every word in the Register, especially the Uncle Sam section. Will be able to write more about what I am doing in a short time, but at present am kept quite busy."

His address is S/Sgt. Robert B. Haberstick, 36332159, APO 464, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

India

Mrs. Leo Vernon of Mt. Prospect has just heard from her son Leo, stationed in Delhi, India, that he received a February issue of the Mt. Prospect Herald. He writes that it is good to read about the home folks.

In turn, Mrs. Vernon received a copy of the New Delhi newspaper sent by her son. It was 13 days in transit. It is interesting to know that our own neighborhood affairs reach the Delhi paper, too. One of the items mentioned was an article on the Tam O'Shanter Country club and a golf tournament planned to be held there. Mrs. Vernon said there were many articles in the paper about various affairs all over the U. S.

New York

Raymond Harms of Arlington Heights writes from Syracuse, New York.

"Please change my address so I don't miss this week's issue.

"After being stationed at Robins Field, Georgia, for the past twenty months, I have now been transferred to Syracuse Army Air Base, New York, for special training. And, boy, this is a real place after being in the 'south' for so long."

His new address is Pfc. Raymond Harms, 337th Airdrome Squadron, 2nd Combat Cargo Group, Syracuse Army Air Base, Syracuse, New York.

Wins DFC

The editor often wonders what would happen to his business if every modest person absolutely failed to talk about any of his own exploits. Sometimes our job is worse than that of the dentist, pulling teeth.

Tucked in a corner of a letter from Otto Jahrling to his parents in Arlington Heights was the notation, "by the way, I was awarded the DFC the other day."

And no details.

Otto has been stationed in England for some time. He is the first radio man aboard a bomber, and in actual combat serves as radio-gunner.

We hope his next letter will tell the details of the DFC award.

Maryland

Lieutenant Junior Grade Robert Carnecross stopped in Rockford on his way home to Arlington from the L.C.T. Base at Solomons, Maryland, where he has been training L.C.T. skippers since the first of April. In Rockford he picked up his brother, Don, his wife and their son Tommy and his fiancée, Miss Lenora Wickstrand and brought them for a week-end visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Carnecross of Arlington Heights.

Before he went to the L.C.T. Base Lieutenant Carnecross had spent fourteen months in the South Pacific.

Georgia

T/4 Ruth Karstens of 207 N. Vail St., Arlington Heights, having completed a year of exemplary service in the Women's Army Corps, has been awarded the army's Good Conduct ribbon at the Third WAC Training Center, Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. The red and white striped ribbon bar will be worn above the left pocket of the shirt or jacket.

T/4 Karstens is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Karstens. Prior to enlisting in the Corps she was employed as secretary for Krause & Kehe, currency exchange in Arlington Heights.

Chaplain and Mrs. Harold Maleske have spent most of this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Maleske in Mt. Prospect. They spent the week-end in Paw-Paw, Michigan, as guests of the church that Harold served before he entered the Army. Leaving Thursday, Chaplain and Mrs. Maleske will go to Norman, Okla. to visit her parents. May 31 he will return to Camp Stewart, Ga.

New Britain

Pvt. Willard Ehlers of Wheeling is now located somewhere on New Britain Island. The weather there is not as hot, nor are the mosquitoes quite as bad as in his former location.

He says the food there is O.K. if you don't mind rubber-like pancakes, hash, dried eggs and milk. Willard would gladly give a big premium for a real fresh egg. Only a country raised person can fully appreciate that longing.

Colorado

Chaplain Harry Fricke's family recently moved to 723 North Stat road from 315 North Highland, Arlington Heights.

About two weeks ago, the Lutheran minister was transferred from his post at Fort Robinson, Nebraska to a larger prisoner of war camp at Greely, Colorado, where he will help establish services for outlying camps. His new work will necessitate a good deal of traveling within an 150 mile radius.
